Exploring Blaenavon's Medical History

When the Blaenavon ironworks opened in 1789, people flocked to the area to find work in its various industries. Heavy industry involved dangerous work and accidents were commonplace. Furthermore, this was an era when sanitation was poor and houses were often overcrowded, providing an environment in which illness and disease were rife.

So what level of medical provision was there for the sick and injured of Blaenavon during the nineteenth century? This question and many more have been answered in Farewell to Welfare, a new publication by the Blaenavon Local History Group, which charts the story of medical provision in Blaenavon from the Industrial Revolution to present day. It includes new research on philanthropy, sick clubs, medical practitioners, and the Blaenavon Medical Aid Society. It also features modern day anecdotes and reflections from patients and doctors, including Dr Wayne Lewis and Dr Gareth Buffett.

The book has been produced by a group of enthusiastic volunteers, who meet weekly at the Blaenavon World Heritage Centre, and has been beautifully illustrated by local artist Mary Challenger. Farewell to Welfare is now available for purchase at the Blaenavon World Heritage Centre's gift shop and would make an ideal Christmas present!

Archwilio Hanes Meddygol Blaenafon

Pan agorodd Gwaith Haearn Blaenafon ym 1789, daeth pobl yn eu heidiau i'r ardal i ddod o hyd i waith yn ei diwydiannau amrywiol. Roedd y diwydiannau trwm yn golygu gwaith peryglus ac roedd damweiniau'n digwydd yn rheolaidd. Dyma adeg hefyd pan yr oedd glanweithdra'n wael a'r tai'n aml wedi eu gorboblogi, ac yn yr amgylchedd hwn roedd salwch a chlefyd yn rhemp.

Felly pa fath o ddarpariaeth feddygol oedd ar gael i'r sâl a'r claf ym Mlaenafon yn ystod y bedwaredd ganrif ar bymtheg? Atebwyd y cwestiwn hwn a sawl un arall mewn cyhoeddiad newydd, Farewell to Welfare, gan Grŵp Hanes Lleol Blaenafon, sy'n olrhain hanes y ddarpariaeth feddygol ym Mlaenafon o'r Chwyldro Diwydiannol hyd heddiw. Mae'n cynnwys ymchwil newydd ar ddyngarwch, clybiau i'r sâl, meddygon a Chymdeithas Cymorth Meddygol Blaenafon. Mae hefyd yn cynnwys hanesion meddygol modern ac atgofion cleifion a meddygon, gan gynnwys Dr Wayne Lewis a Dr Gareth Buffett.

Cynhyrwyd y llyfr gan grŵp o wirfoddolwyr brwdfrydig sy'n cwrdd yn wythnosol yng Nghanolfan Treftadaeth Byd Blaenafon, ac mae'n cynnwys darluniau hardd gan yr artist lleol Mary Challenger. Mae Farewell to Welfare ar gael nawr i'w brynu yn siop rhoddion Canolfan Treftadaeth Byd Blaenafon ac fe fyddai'n anrheg delfrydol ar gyfer y Nadolig!

Railway News

Y Clecs o'r Cledrau

The heritage railway has had a very good year, and despite operating for 5 less days, passenger figures are almost identical to the same point as 2012. The biggest rise came in the midweek summer trains which saw a significant rise over last years. The events have all been very popular, with the highlight being the September 14/15 30th Anniversary Gala which saw many local people attending to see the recreation of the last train over the Heads of the Valleys railway, and to share their memories. The event even made the BBC Wales news.

The railway rounds off the year with its very popular Santa Steam Specials which run every December weekend (and November 30th). With presents for the children, sherry for the grown ups (plus mince pies for all) and a chance to meet Santa these fill up pretty quickly! To make sure you don't miss out call 01495 792263, email santa@pbrly.co.uk or book online via the railways website - www.pontypool-and-blaenavon.co.uk. The railway then closes until 2014 when it will reopen in April, with the popular Easter Bunny Trains running at Easter.

The railway is always looking for new volunteers, so if you fancy helping out why not pop along on a weekend and see what you can do.

Rhoddwyd sylw i'r digwyddiad ar newyddion BBC Cymru.

Fe fydd y rheilffordd yn diweddur flwyddyn gyda digwyddiadau poblogaidd Trenau Stêm Siôn Corn sy'n rhedeg bob penwythnos yn ystod mis Rhagfyr (ac ar 30 Tachwedd). Gydag anrhegion i'r plant, sieri i'r oedolion (a mins peis i bawb) a chyfle i gwrrd â Siôn Corn, mae'r llefydd yn llenwi'n fuan! Er mwyn sicrhau na fyddwch chi'n colli'ch cyfle, ffoniwch 01495 792263, e-bostiwch santa@pbrly.co.uk neu trefnwch eich lle ar-lein trwy wefan y rheilffordd - www.pontypool-and-blaenavon.co.uk. Yna, fe fydd y rheilffordd yn cau tan 2014 ac yn ailagor ym mis Ebrill, gyda Threnau Cwningen y Pasg poblogaidd yn rhedeg dros y Pasg.

Ac maen nhw'n chwilio am wirfoddolwyr newydd ar y rheilffordd, felly os hoffech chi estyn llaw beth am alw draw ar un o'r penwythnosau i weld beth allwch chi ei wneud.

Mini Explorers Club at Big Pit

Big Pit have recently been improving their provision for very young visitors. A range of new activities and resources have been developed to help under-fives get more out of a visit to Big Pit. One new resource is the 'Mini Miners Trail' booklet with activities for children, which also includes ideas to help parents guide their little ones around Big Pit. These have been developed in conjunction with Torfaen's Language and Play Coordinator and Torfaen Bookstart. They were trialled and tested with an audience of toddlers from Flying Start and Busy Bees Blaenavon, along with some families who regularly attend 'Bookstart Rhymetime' events in Torfaen libraries. The Welsh language version was trialled by pupils from Ysgol Bryn Onnen.

There are also plans for a regular programme of events aimed at under-fives, and the opportunity for children to join the 'Little Pit Explorers Club' for 0-4 year olds or the 'Big Pit Explorers Club' for 5-7 year olds. Members of both clubs will receive a certificate, badge, activity pack and VIP invitations to special events four times a year. The first events will be Father Christmas on Saturday 7 December for children of all ages and Mother Christmas on Sunday 15 December for 0-4 year olds.

Blaenavon Museum to Mark Centenary of World War One

2014 marks the centenary of the outbreak of the First World War. During this global conflict some 40,000 Welshmen lost their lives, including over a hundred soldiers from the town of Blaenavon. All families were affected by the war in some way and many of us know of relatives who served their country in the armed forces, in the coalmines, on the land, in the munitions factories or on the Home Front.

The Blaenavon Community Heritage and Cordell Museum has recently been awarded a grant from the Heritage Lottery Fund to produce a book that tells the story of the people of Blaenavon in the years between 1914 and 1918. The museum will be working with volunteers, students, the Royal British Legion and Gwent Archives to research this significant period in history and the findings will be made available to the public, local schools and libraries.

If you have any personal stories, photographs or documents related to the First World War, the museum would be pleased to hear from you. Anything you contribute will be digitised and safely returned to you.

For further information, including details of volunteering opportunities, please phone 01495 790991 or email blaenavoncordellmuseum@hotmail.co.uk

Amgueddfa Blaenavon yn Cofio Canrif ers y Rhyfel Byd Cyntaf

Mae 2014 yn nodi canrif ers dechrau'r Rhyfel Byd Cyntaf. Yn ystod y brwydro byd-eang hwn, gwelwyd tua 40,000 o ddynion Cymru'n colli eu bywydau, gan gynnwys dros gan o filwyr o dref Blaenavon. Effeithiodd y rhyfel ar bob teulu mewn rhyw ffordd neu'i gilydd, ac mae llawer ohonom yn gwybod am berthnasau a fu'n gwasanaethu'u gwlad yn y lluoedd arfog, yn y pyllau glo, ar y tir, yn y ffatrioedd arfau neu ar y Ffrynt Cartref.

Yn ddiweddar, mae Treftadaeth Gymunedol Blaenavon ac Amgueddfa Cordell wedi sicrhau grant gan Gronfa Treftadaeth y Loteri i gynhyrchu llyfr sy'n adrodd stori pobl Blaenavon yn ystod y blynyddoedd rhwng 1914 a 1918. Fe fydd yr amgueddfa'n gweithio gyda gwirfoddolwyr, myfyrwyr, y Llenng Brydeinig Frenhinol ac Archifau Gwent i ymchwilio i'r cyfnod hanesyddol pwysig hwn ac fe fydd y darganfyddiadau ar gael i'r cyhoedd, ysgolion lleol a llyfrgelloedd.

Os oes gennych chi unrhyw straeon personol, ffotograffau neu ddogfennau sy'n gysylltiedig â'r Rhyfel Byd Cyntaf, mi fuasai'r amgueddfa'n falch iawn o glywed gennych. Fe fydd unrhyw beth y gallwch chi ei gyfrannu yn cael ei ddigideiddio a'i dychwelyd yn ddiogel atoch chi.

Am wybodaeth bellach, gan gynnwys manylion cyfleoedd gwirfoddoli, mae croeso i chi ffonio 01495 790991 neu e-bostio blaenavoncordellmuseum@hotmail.co.uk

Blaenavon Ironworks – a model of interpretation

If you've been to the Ironworks lately, you'll have seen the exciting new interpretation scheme taking shape. One of the most obvious and popular new additions is a fantastic scale model of the works circa 1836. The model, two meters in diameter and made of Corten steel, is ideally placed to help visitors orientate themselves and to understand just how built-up the whole area would have been when the works were in full blast. Throughout the 19th century Blaenavon was at the centre of technological advances, and the model continues in that vein. Designed by artist Rubin Eynon, it was manufactured in Bridgend by engineering firm SMF using the latest in laser-cutting technology. They constructed the model by building up individually cut layers of steel jointed together just like a giant 3D jigsaw. This was the first time the machinery had been used for this type of work. Indeed, the makers of the laser-cutter, Trumpf felt the model was so 'cutting edge' that it featured at their open-house exhibition in Luton prior to it being positioned on site.

The Blaenavon Ironworks project is part of Cadw's £19 million Heritage Tourism Project which is funded by the European Regional Development Fund through the Welsh Government.

Gwaith Haearn Blaenafon – dehongli dyfeisgar

Os fuoch chi i'r Gwaith Haearn yn ddiweddar, fe fyddwch chi wedi gweld y cynllun dehongli cyffrous newydd yn dod yn ei flaen. Un o'r ychwanegiadau newydd amlycaf a mwyaf poblogaidd yw model gwych o'r gwaith tua 1836, wrth raddfa. Mae'r model, sydd â diamedr o ddau fetr ac wedi ei wneud o ddr Corten, mewn lle delfrydol i helpu ymwelwyr i ffeindio'u traed ac i ddeall pa mor adeiledig oedd yr ardal gyfan pan oedd y gwaith ar ei anterth. Trwy gydol y 19eg ganrif, roedd Blaenafon wrth galon datblygiadau technolegol, ac mae'r model yn parhau gyda'r traddodiad hwnnw. Fe'i cynlluniwyd gan yr artist Rubin Eynon, ac fe'i gwnaed ym Mhen-y-bont ar Ogwr gan y cwmni peirianeg SMF gan ddefnyddio'r dechnoleg laser ddiweddaraf. Crëwyd y model trwy adeiladu haenau o ddr wedi eu hasio at ei gilydd fel jig-so 3 dimensiwn anferthol. Dyma'r tro cyntaf i'r peiriant gael ei ddefnyddio ar gyfer y math yma o waith. A dweud y gwir, roedd gwneuthurwyr y torrwr laser, Trumpf, yn teimlo bod y model mor flaengar nes iddynt ei gynnwys yn eu harddangosfa yn Luton cyn ei osod ar y safle.

Mae prosiect Gwaith Haearn Blaenafon yn rhan o Brosiect Twristiaeth Treftadaeth Cadw, sy'n werth £19 miliwn ac yn cael ei ariannu gan Gronfa Datblygu Rhanbarthol Ewrop trwy Lywodraeth Cymru.

Countryfile at Blaenavon

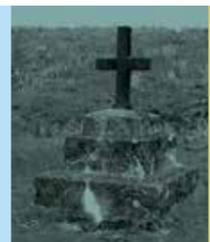

Did you see the recent episode of BBC Countryfile which focussed on Abergavenny, the Monmouthshire and Brecon Canal and the Blaenavon World Heritage Site? It was fantastic! Julia Bradbury and Matt Baker did a great job bringing the story of the World Heritage Site to life. Tom Sharpe, from the National Museum, explained how the geology and landform enabled iron making and coal mining to become such important industries. Michael Blackmore, local artist and historian, described how the Bloreng tram road incline operated and Steve Williams, Torfaen Council Ecologist, demonstrated the value of coal spoil for rare and unusual plants and animals. There were some amazing flyover shots too which really showed the impact past industry has had with the Canada Tips looking like an alien planet.

And the BMX race at the end ... well! Have a look for yourself at: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=l1OykpvM6Ek>

Countryfile ym Blaenafon

A'r ras BMX ar y diwedd ... wel, beth am i chi weld drosoch chi'ch hun trwy glicio ar: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=l1OykpvM6Ek>
